

NEW INFIRMARY WILL BE BUILT DURING YEAR

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS FOUND WAY TO PROVIDE FUNDS AND ORDERED WORK.

COST WILL BE ABOUT $45,000

Of This $15,000 Is Now Available,
While Balance Can Be Raised
By Levy.

The finance committee on the new county home proposition brought in their report of their findings at this morning's session of the board of supervisors, and the results of their investigations were so satisfactory that immediate motion passed the board that advertisement for bids on the erection of the new county building go forward at once. The new county home will be built this summer.

The finance committee found upon investigation that it will be possible to appropriate $15,000 out of the county funds during the current year and that by additional tax levy the county can raise the sum of $30,000 next year. The price to be paid for the new home is $45,000 and the home can be paid for by 1916.

The motion to approve the report of the committee, which recommended the advertising of bids and immediate erection of the home, was concurred in by the county board without a dissenting vote, and with such perfect harmony among the board members it is seen that the task of erecting a new building will go forward without a hitch.

Put Bounty on Crows.

Supervisor James Buckley this morning introduced his resolution putting a bounty of 10 cents a head on crows, 5 cents a head on young crows and 2 cents on crow eggs.

The resolution, which passed unanimously, also puts a bounty of 2 cents a head on sparrows and provides that heads and eggs be brought to the town clerk of the town in which they are secured, who will get warrants for payment from the county clerk. The new bounty law goes into effect on March 15th, 1915.

No County Line Bridges.

The road and bridge committee reported on their investigation of certain culverts and bridges on the Lee-Ogle county line and recommended that this county enter into no agreement to build, maintain or repair bridges or culverts along the Lee and Ogle county line. Supervisor Mannion speaking for the road and bridge committee, explained that under the Tice road law it was impossible for one county to compel another to help maintain county line bridges, and that as long as Lee county could not force other abutting counties to help maintain or to help build bridges and culverts, Lee county had better take the position that she would not enter into any agreement to help other counties.

Committee Reports.

Reports were read from the following committees and were received, approved and placed on file:

Claims committee, Education committee, Old Soldiers' committee, Fee and Salary committee, Road and Bridge committee.

State Aid for Crossing.

The board of supervisors, in session this morning, agreed to accept the re-allocation of state aid road funds from the state highway commission, and voted to appropriate a like amount, $1389, from the funds of the county, and then, in agreement with the stipulation of the state commission, which says that the money may be used on roads or bridges,

He is survived by one son, N. Lee Stary of Los Angeles. Funeral services will be held at Los Angeles Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with interment at Hollywood cemetery.

MORE TAX BOOKS TURNED IN

Two errors were made in the transmission of the figures of the official vote cast at Tuesday's primary election by the canvassing board, which materially reduced George W. Smith's vote, his total being 1237 instead of 1145, as first reported. The errors were made in the tabulation of the first and fifth precincts, Mr. Smith polling 147 male votes in the first precinct and 280 in the fifth.

New Map Showing Stages of Action In Attack By the Allies Upon Ports of the Dardanelles.

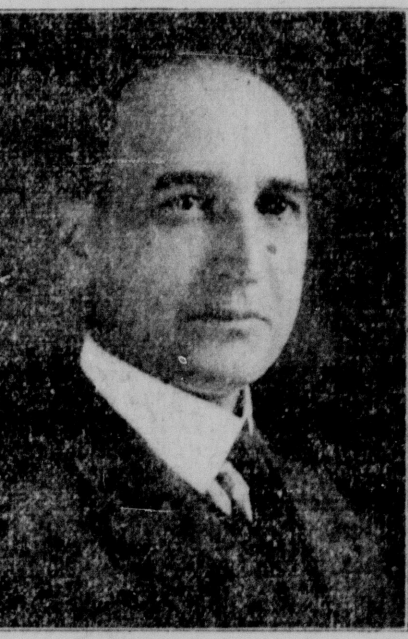

This is a new map of the Dardanelles, where important action is now progressing. Following are the interesting points: 1, gulf of Saros, where French warships are reported to be shelling the forts and batteries on the strait side of the Gallipoli peninsula; 2, entrance of the Dardanelles, the forts of which were shattered by the allied fleet, which then entered; 3, approximate position of the fleet after it had pushed its way several miles into the strait and confronted the second line of forts.

Getting Acquainted With The Candidates

JOHN D. VAN BIBBER.

John D. Van Bibber, commissioner of Public Health and Safety in the present council, and a candidate for re-election to the governing body of the city, was born in Blue Grass, Ia., near Davenport, July 17, 1872. He received a public school education in his home town, going to Davenport when he was nineteen years of age to take a position as clerk in a freight office.

Later he went to Chicago where he became foreman of a shipping room in Seigle, Cooper & Co.'s big store, where he remained for a year and a half. His health demanded that he get out of the city, and accordingly Mr. Van Bibber returned to Davenport where he learned the

(Associated Press.)

Washington, D. C., March 11.—Carranza's formal reply to the representations of the American government, the text of which was made public at Vera Cruz last night, and which is addressed to President Wilson personally, is being deciphered at the state department today.

In the reply as given out at Vera Cruz, Carranza promises protection to foreigners at Mexico City and the officials here believe that Carranza's assurance will make it unnecessary for Washington to take steps beyond those already taken.

Spaniards Assassinated.

The Spanish ambassador has informed the state department that four Spaniards have been assassinated in Mexico City, and he also presented reports of looting and burning of private residences on the outskirts.

Carranza has informed Secretary Bryan that foreigners will be allowed to use the railroads as soon as the evacuation of Mexico City is completed.

THAW LOST EFFORT TO PROVE SANITY

COURT RULED OUT EVIDENCE TODAY—PROSECUTION CLOSED CASE

(Associated Press.)

New York, March 11.—Harry K. Thaw's attempt to get evidence concerning his sanity into the record of the case, failed today when the court ruled out all testimony concerning his sanity except enough to show that he had the mental capacity to enter into a conspiracy with five co-defendants to escape from Matteawan. The prosecution closed its case today. Michael O'Keefe, one of the defendants with Thaw, has been discharged because of insufficient evidence.

Springfield, Ill., March 11.—The senate today adopted by a vote of 52 to 5 a resolution providing for the submission to the voters of a proposition for holding a constitutional convention to formulate amendments to the constitution of the state. MAY READJUST INSURANCE RATES

ENGINEER FOR COMPANIES IN- SPECT FIRE PROTECTION HERE WEDNESDAY.

Frank R. Daniel, assistant engineer, hydraulics and electrical, representing the stock insurance companies, with headquarters in Chicago, spent Wednesday in Dixon looking over what protection was afforded in this city in the way of fire protection. He looked over the equipment at the fire station and from there visited the water works plant. It depends much on the report that he may make as to what the rates of insurance are based on. The rates in Dixon are higher in a great many instances than other towns, due it is claimed to the vast amount of territory that the city is spread over, thus meaning a long run from the fire station with the apparatus to fight fires.

TOWNSHIP HIGH SCHOOL PLANNED

Agitation for a township high school has supplanted the movement started a few weeks ago for the consolidation of school districts 133, 134, 135 and 138, the change in the proposition having been made because of opposition to the proposed consolidation in some quarters. The decision to work for a township high school was reached at a meeting on Wednesday afternoon in Steward.

Lowden To Be 1916 Candidate Says Washington

Friends of Oregon Man Say His Announcement Will Be Made Soon

Washington, D. C., March 11.—Announcement of the candidacy of Frank O. Lowden of Oregon, Ill., for the Republican nomination for governor in 1916, may be expected at any time now according to his friends here.

While in Washington during the winter Col. Lowden canvassed the situation with respect to the support he might anticipate through the state. He found practically all of them favorable to his candidacy. He then decided to get into the race.

Accordingly, he perfected an organization throughout the state and put workers in every county with the expectation of making his announcement some time early next year, when it would be followed by such evidences of strength as to scare off other candidates. The candidacy of Frank O. Smith of Dwight, however, may serve to make Col. Lowden issue some statement with respect to his own ambitions earlier than he expected.

Col. Lowden's former colleague in congress, ex-Representative McKinney of Alamo, also will probably get back into the Illinois political ring before next year. Mr. McKinney is seriously considering becoming a candidate for another term in congress from the Fourteenth district, which he served here for a number of years.

Think Ship Will Intern.

"When I returned to the Eitel last night," said Klesne, "the German officers seemed assured the ship would be interned."

The Eitel will be permitted to make necessary repairs under the supervision of the American naval authorities, if her commander requests. Captain Thierichsen has formally notified the Collector of Customs that if the United States refuses him necessary time to make repairs the Eitel will attempt to continue her voyage of adventure.

Americans Released.

Twenty-two of the crew of the American ship William P. Frye were released from the Eitel today. Two sailors remained with the Eitel to enlist with the fatherland.

"Most Searching Inquiry."

Washington, D. C., March 11.—President Wilson said today: "The most searching inquiries will be made into the sinking of the William P. Frye by the German cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich, and whatever action is taken will be based on the result of that inquiry."

The sinking of the William P. Frye on the ground that the wheat it carried was destined to a hostile port is understood to have an important bearing on the subject of contraband.

Chicago, March 11.—Mrs. Agnes Kent of 2745 West Harrison street called on the Evanston police yesterday to see the girl found wandering along the drainage canal several days ago. The girl was Miss Dorothy Verrall of Wilmette and had been released.

"I thought she might be my daughter, Stella Irene," said Mrs. Kent. "She disappeared a month after her sister Bessie was found dead in a woods near Dixon, Ill."

"You remember, Dr. Harry Elgin Webster confessed killing her. I've been looking for Stella for three years. I traveled all over and I've spent all my money, but I have found no trace of her."

MRS. DAVID M. GRAYBILL DEAD

Mrs. David M. Graybill died on Wednesday forenoon at the home of her daughter in Tipton, Ill., and the remains will be brought to Dixon and buried in the Pine Creek cemetery. Mrs. Graybill resided in Ogle county for many years and with her husband moved to Iowa some 20 years ago. Mr. Graybill passed away several years ago. Two daughters reside in Iowa, and Mrs. Harry Emerson of Oregon is another daughter.

The body will arrive in Dixon Saturday morning on the 10:49 o'clock train and the funeral will be held on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Rev. Seyster officiating.

Miss Edna Ware is quite ill at the Schumm residence in North Dixon.

Million Dollar Herd May Never Be Sent From State

Geneva, Ill., March 11.—Final tests began Wednesday to determine whether the $2,500,000 herd of prize cattle which includes the $30,000 champion bull owned by Mrs. Nell Fabyan—interned at the old Hawthorne race track under the hoof and mouth disease quarantine is to be destroyed or to be allowed to remain indefinitely in Illinois under the federal ban on interstate shipment. Even should the animals be declared free from the plague government inspectors in Chicago today stated they will never be shipped from the state no matter how long they live.

Fifty cattle which have been kept isolated in Wisconsin for several weeks were driven into the pens with the quarantined animals yesterday. Should any of these experimental animals become infected within the next month, the entire prize herd will be slaughtered, it was said. The alternative verdict of the test may result in the state veterinarian authorities permitting owners to remove the stock to some other portion of the state. Most of the animals are owned by breeders in other states, however.

That the prize cattle will be kept in quarantine indefinitely no matter what the result of the test, is the opinion of cattlemen at the stockyards. They believe the heavy expense to the owners who now realize that they probably can never remove the stock to their native farms in other states, will drive them to the extremity of destroying the herd and then seeking to establish some sort of valuation basis within the state.

That a disastrous test was made two weeks ago which resulted in the showing that a great number of the blooded cattle to be infected, is the report at the stockyards. Federal inspectors would not deny that the subjection this week of fresh cattle to the quarantine will be the second test at Hawthorne within a short time.

According to the reports the first experiment made by the owners of the herd to prove the stock free from disease was to place a drove of healthy hogs with the cattle.

It was said that after a week a great number of the hogs were so hobbling on the second points of their legs. They were then destroyed.

Dr. John R. Mohler, first assistant chief of the bureau of animal industry at Washington, is said to have made a secret visit to the animals at Hawthorne. His verdict was that the condition of the cattle was such that no matter what the opinion of veterinarians, they would never be allowed to leave the state, it is declared.

CARRANZA WRITES TO WILSON

John Callan O'Laughlin, the Chicago Herald's expert correspondent, says of the situation:

Here are the three salient points in the peremptory note sent by Secretary Bryan to Gen. Carranza:

1. The United States emphatically reprobates the action of the Constitutional forces under General Obregon "in preying upon a starving city."
2. The "patience of the United States" is nearing exhaustion as a result of conditions in Mexico City and elsewhere throughout the republic.
3. The United States will hold Gen. Carranza and Gen. Obregon "personally responsible for the murder or injury of any American citizen and for their future conduct."

While this note was enroute to Carranza official information reached here that several Americans had been outraged in Mexico City.

The Broad Way Leads to Goodyear Tires

Try it a little while. It has carried some 400,000 motorists to the haven of content. It is traveled by more users than has any other tire. That has been so for years.

We can't win you to Fortified Tires by asking you to try them. The tires themselves must win you.

But our plea is that you should try the tires that countless men found best. There must be a reason as you know, why Goodyears dominate like this. Last year men bought about one Goodyear for every car in use.

Men Like You

This Goodyear army is composed of men like you. They want quality, safety, endurance. They want trouble-saving and low cost per mile.

Goodyears best met these wants. They met them because they are Fortified Tires.

Sweden Asks Reparation.

The Swedish minister requested an audience with the president today for the purpose of demanding immediate reparation for the murder of a Swedish subject in Mexico City.

It is the understanding of the State department, based upon information received from Vera Cruz, that Carranza will make a conciliatory reply to this government. He will deny that Gen. Obregon has been guilty of any excesses and will insist that in any event he and his subordinates can no longer be held responsible, since the constitutionalists have evacuated the Mexican capital.

The State department has guarded with the utmost care the contents of the note to Carranza, but the correspondent is in a position to announce that the three points stated are accurate quotations thereof.

Wilson May Change Policy.

It is apparent the administration is on the eve of a change of policy of the highest importance to the country and to Mexico. Otherwise the president would not have condemned in such unmeasured terms the conduct of the Carranza forces nor especially would he have declared that the patience of this government in dealing with the Mexicans was about at an end.

Apparently the president has suffered a radical change of mind with reference to Mexico. In his Indianapolis speech two months ago the president thus described his attitude toward that country:

"Have not European nations taken as long as they wanted and split as much blood as they pleased in settling their affairs, and shall we deny that to Mexico because she is weak? No, I say! I am proud to belong to a strong nation that says: 'This country, which we would crush, will have just as much freedom in her own affairs as we have.'"

All Talk of Intervention.

As a result of representations made to Carranza what will the United States do in case Americans should be killed or injured within the jurisdiction of that chief? What will the United States do should conditions in Mexico City now under the control of Zapata continue as "bad" as they were under Obregon?

There is only one answer in all circles here to both these questions. That is forcible intervention.

In order to give Carranza an opportunity to reply to the American note, without apparent threat of force Rear Admiral Caperton, with the battleship Georgia and armored cruiser Washington, has been instructed to delay his departure from Guantanamo until tomorrow.

But Carranza knows the admiral and the ships named are coming.

May Not Scare Carranza.

Whether Carranza will be frightened or not remains to be seen. As one diplomat said tonight:

"Carranza may remember that the United States sent a strong note to Germany protesting against the Berlin 'war zone' decree and threatened to hold the German government strictly accountable should American ships be destroyed. Germany is enforcing the decree."

WILSON & CURTIS
—OPTICIANS—
Phone 282 220 1st St.

It is as well known by Carranza as it is by Washington that the administration has fought against intervention. He may build upon this knowledge.

Secretary Bryan and other members of the cabinet are pinning hope upon a revolution to be headed by Senor Iturbide.

Bryan Backing Iturbide.

It developed, during the day that Mr. Bryan and the Mexican leader recently held a conference; that the secretary was greatly impressed by the nobility and patriotism of his visitor, and that he assured him of support, provided he should by his own efforts "make good" in actual operations in the distressed country.

When Senor Iturbide's plans are perfected he will be received by the president.

But to capture Mexico City will require time. Meantime anarchical conditions in the capital and elsewhere will continue. American citizens warned to leave Mexico City will be unable to reach the coast, because communications are cut. Mr. Bryan has promised he will provide them with means to get away. He expects to carry out this promise by representations to Carranza and not to use force to do so, for the present, at least.

Europe's Powers Ask Action.

The European governments are gravely concerned about the immediate present, as well as future. They want action now. Each day's delay adds to the dangers of the situation of their representatives and nationals. A number of ambassadors will call upon Secretary Bryan tomorrow for the purpose of ascertaining the results of his representations to Carranza.

Some of them also will be charged to repeat the inquiry addressed to the secretary last week: "What is the United States going to do?"

The president declined last week to see one minister who was directed to call upon him to discuss the Mexican situation. He referred the diplomat to the secretary of state. This course may be pursued with regard to the Swedish minister, who desires to see him about the murder of one of his countrymen.

Such action is certain to arouse irritation abroad. It is unusual for the president to decline to see a diplomat when the latter makes a formal request for an audience.

Hints at Sending Troops.

The president has also said that Carranza and Obregon will be held "personally responsible" if any Americans should be killed or injured. It is asked: Does this mean that Carranza and Obregon will be seized by the United States and punished? If such action should be determined upon, would it not mean that the United States must land troops and by force of arms arrest the two Mexican leaders?

During the Taft administration warnings were sent to Mexican leaders that they would be held "personally responsible" for outrages upon Americans. This did not cause them to stop the perpetration of outrages.

No Mexican leader has been apprehended by the United States, though it is true that Huerta was expelled from his country.

For March on Mexico City.

The army and navy feel that events are pushing the administration into intervention in spite of resistance of the president and Mr. Bryan. The two services realize now as they never did before that in case they are ordered into Mexico they will not have the walkway they would have had a year ago. There are about 100,000 Mexicans of several years' experience in the field. They are not well supplied with ammunition, to be sure but they would be able to make sturdy resistance for a time.

But should action be required of the army and navy, it will be in the nature of a dash on Mexico City.

The fleet and transports will assemble at the same moment at Vera Cruz. Following the capture of that city there will be a quick move along the railroad to the capital.

Once Mexico City is in American possession, attention will be paid to the rest of the country. This, however, is in the future. At present the administration is preoccupied about day to day events.

Education consists of stocking the memory with a large collection of valuable facts so neatly arranged that they can be taken out in a minute's notice.

And even then it consists only of well chosen samples from all the different lines which have been produced in the last 5,000 years.

Many a man has collected knowledge for sixty years and has still been compelled to order vast quantities of necessary facts from the catalogue each day.

When the young man has finished laying in the staple lines at the high school he goes to college where an enormous collection of fancy education is dispensed at very low rates. Here he may remain for four years, buying stocks of Latin, Greek, Hebrew, archaeology, phonology, morphology, biology, psycho-sociology, history, neo-Plantology and other expensive complications with the utmost recklessness.

Some young men have unlimited shelf-room for this sort of stuff, and when they have been graduated go on through life accumulating new and alarming lines of knowledge. But many students fill all the available shelves in their memory in their sophomore year and pile the rest of the stuff on the floor.

This is a great mistake. Nothing is sadder than to see an earnest young man wading through 98765 poorly catalogued facts in the effort to find a little mislaid information in the art of holding an eighteen-dollar-a-week job.

He becomes confused and discouraged, not to mention dusty in the process. When we see such a young man trying to sell a bill of groceries with a complete working knowledge of the style principles of Walter Pater, we are constrained to believe that he has overbought at the education shop.

He is over-stocked and under-catalogued. His mental front door is blocked with unpacked goods, and his every day lines of knowledge are buried in the coal cellar under a fine new consignment of ancient history.

Knowledge is a great thing, but the art of arranging and using it is far greater. We should fill our shelves with the best available knowledge, and until we have learned our stock and have completed our invoice, we should waive further salesmen sternly away.

The paper for the day was read by Mrs. Lloyd Lewis, on the Montessorian Method of teaching and was very interesting and beneficial. The method originated in Italy and has been very successful in that country, especially on deficient children. Mrs. Shuck's guests numbered twenty and were members of Mrs. Deeter's Sunday school class of the Grace Evangelical church.

At noon a delightful scramble dinner was enjoyed. The table was attractively decorated in carnations and ferns. Following the dinner all returned to the parlor where the afternoon was spent in doing fancy work and a social time enjoyed. The guests tendered Mrs. Deeter a surprise during the afternoon, when Mrs. Allen in behalf of the assembled guests presented her with a silk umbrella, as a token of the esteem in which she is held by her class members.

Late in the afternoon the guests departed for their homes bidding the guest of honor farewell and wishing her abundance of happiness in her future home.

A very interesting program was given consisting of a short lecture on the Philippines and Cuba under the United States by Prof. W. R. Snyder, in which he spoke of the progress made since they had been under the control of the United States and of how the Philippines have improved their educational methods and, while they were once a fever zone they now have improved sanitary conditions until they are very prosperous islands. It is hoped soon to raise tropical fruits and the completion of a railroad from Florida to Cuba will add immensely in the shipping facilities.

Music on the Victrola completed the program and during the social hour which followed, refreshments were served.

The hostesses were assisted by Mrs. Henry T. Noble and Mrs. F. J. Rosbrook. Mrs. Bardwell and Miss Mary Wynn poured.

RUSSIAN DISCIPLINE SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

FAVORABLE VIEWS OBTAINED OF CZAR'S ARMY IN GALICIA.

Berlin, Feb. 26.—Correspondence of the Associated Press.—A more favorable view of the discipline in the Russian army in Galicia than prevailed during the autumn invasion of East Prussia is given by Leonhard Adelt, the war correspondent of the Berlin Tageblatt, who recently visited Neu-Sandee on the Dnajece river a short time after it had been evacuated by the Russian army.

At the corner of one street he saw a hook fastened to the wall, from which, he was informed, the Russian soldiers had hanged one of their soldiers for plundering. There was still visible on the adjacent wall the following inscription in Russian: "The Czar sent out soldiers, not pillagers, to fight for him." Adelt goes on to say that the Russians maintained strict discipline in the city. As further examples of their stringency he mentions that one soldier who stole a ham was given fifty strokes with the knout; while another, who strayed into the quarters of other soldiers, and made undue noises there, got 20 strokes.

In the Bukovina the Russians demonstrated the sincerity of their newly-acquired temperance principles by emptying all strong liquors into the gutters.

BIG TRADE BALANCE FOR U.S.

Debts Abroad Being Paid and Large Credits Piling Up.

Washington, March 11.—Impressive evidence is accumulating daily of the extraordinary balance of trade in its favor which the United States is piling up against the rest of the world. The remarkable record of the last seven months has not only wiped out in its entirety the big floating debt which the United States owed to Europe at the beginning of the war, but credits in our favor are now forming abroad at a rapid rate. Officials here predict that if exports continue at the same rate as in the last two months the total balance of trade will be the largest in the history of the United States.

Figures compiled by the department of commerce show that exports for the week ended March 6 amounted to $55,204,576, and imports $29,392,055 in thirteen of the principal customs districts handling about 88 per cent of the business of the country.

COUNTERFEITERS ARE SHOT WITHOUT TRIAL

MEXICAN AUTHORITIES ADOPT STRINGENT RULES TO STOP PRACTICE.

Mexico City, Mex. 2.—Correspondence of the Associated Press.—In an effort to check the widespread activities of counterfeiters, the Mexican authorities are making a special roundup of these criminals who, when caught in the act of making bogus money, are to be shot without trial. Coinage has long since disappeared, even the despised copper centavos being hidden away for safe keeping, so that paper cents, dimes and 25 cent pieces, together with dollar and half-dollar bills are the exchange units of every day transactions. As this money is made on the ordinary printing press, the temptation to make bogus money has been too great for many to withstand. It is estimated that millions of dollars in counterfeit money are now floating about the republic.

CRISIS APPROACHES IN MEXICO.

The Chicago Evening Post has concluded that "Watchful Waiting" will no longer do justice to the Mexican situation, and believes that President Wilson should call in the A. B. C. mediators again and attempt peaceful straightening out of the mob-ruled republic, and if that will not effect order, demands intervention. Here is what the Post says, in part:

"The possibility that intervention in Mexico will be forced upon the United States as the result of the spread of anarchy in that country is receiving the serious consideration of the administration."

This is a dispatch of this morning. It might just as well have been a dispatch dug from the newspaper files of two years ago.

It is what "watchful waiting" was in 1913; it is what "watchful waiting" is in 1915.

One by one those who have sympathized with the president's peaceful and democratic purpose toward Mexico have regretfully abandoned the practical plans which they believed his mind might be holding.

The landing at Vera Cruz upset one possibility—the course of absolute nonintervention that had been credited to Mr. Wilson. The lifting and shifting of the arms embargo upset another theory of his action. The failure to support either Carranza or Villa, or to use effective pressure to make these men hold together, upset a third idea. The withdrawal from Vera Cruz made everything crash down into hopeless inertia again.

For the life of them, the president's friends could not imagine what he meant to do after withdrawal. They had hoped that our troops at the gates of the capital would help Mexico's efforts toward good government and check her attempts toward bad government. But this hope, like every other hope of a positive character, had to be given up.

Since then there has been no hope. We have recited in these columns with painstaking details the lack of knowledge of the situation which our State Department has displayed day after day as this general or that "president" rose into prominence.

The "watchfulness" has gone out of "watchful waiting."

Are we, then, simply to "wait?" To wait until there is a terrible holocaust in the City of Mexico? To wait until foreign diplomats abandon the country in order to save their lives? To wait until the powers of Europe at last drive home their proper and long-withheld protests? To wait until these incompetent and selfish "leaders" in Mexico exhaust the country so that she cannot recover?

We do not believe that we can so wait.

"Watchful waiting" has proven a final failure. It has not established a stable and just form of government in Mexico. It has not even cleared the ground or laid the foundations for such a government.

In the name of humanity and in behalf of Mexico, President Wilson should now act along that line of action which has been his sole success in the whole Mexican trouble. He should call in the governments of Argentina, Brazil and Chile to act with us in a diplomatic intervention into Mexico for the purpose of re-establishing law and order. Should the petty revolutionary leaders reject this intervention, we should be prepared to make it good, even as we did in Cuba.

We have no infinity to draw upon in settling affairs in Mexico. If the end of the European war finds the southern republic still bleeding to death, there is every prospect that one of these war-trained powers will offer us the choice of action or a clash with veteran troops, even as we did to France after our civil war.

THE BOND ISSUE FOR THE LINCOLN WAY.

One of the important questions of public policy which will be up to the voters to decide at the next township election in April is whether we shall issue bonds to the amount of $50,000 and use the money for the building of a brick or concrete highway starting at the city limits on the west and running out the Sterling road for about a mile and a half and starting at the city limits at the east and running out the Franklin Grove road for about three and one-half miles.

The Telegraph is heartily in favor of this improvement and believes it will be well worth the cost. If it goes through, the Lincoln Highway will be a permanently improved road clear through Dixon township, every inch of it, including the city of Dixon—about six and one-half or seven miles.

These two roads leading into Dixon from the east and west are the two main arteries of travel and the two most important gateways to this city. Aside from the inestimable value these paved roads would be to local people, both in city and country, many thousands of automobile loads of tourists pass over them every year and what a splendid example of the progressiveness and enterprise of the people of Dixon township they would be. The entire township would get a direct or indirect benefit from the improvement and the investment would be a permanent one. Both roads are now covered with worn-out macadam. They are rough and unsatisfactory and it would take a great deal of money to make them good, even with new macadam, which at the best wears out in a few years.

THEY STOP INVESTIGATING UNCLE JOE.

The department of justice at Washington has announced that the evidence of vote fraud in the recent congressional election in Uncle Joe Cannon's district was not sufficient to warrant a continuance of the investigation and, as a result, the investigators have packed their trunks and gone home.

The most popular American pastime, indoor or outdoor, at this time seems to be gripe and variations.

ANOTHER SHIP IS SUNK BY EITEL sank the William P. Frye on the morning of January 28, blowing a gaping hole through the hull with a charge of dynamite.

"I was almost becalmed when the German ship appeared about 2 o'clock in the afternoon of Jan. 27. My ship was barely moving, and I paid no attention to the first order to lay to. However, the cruiser bore down on me and I brought by craft to a standstill. After learning that I carried a cargo of wheat the German captain told me that it was contraband and he intended to destroy it. I protested, but no attention was paid to my statements.

Slow in Dumping Cargo. "A German officer and squad of men were sent aboard and I and my crew were set to work throwing the grain overboard. The German sighted another vessel, also becalmed and made for it. He returned about 10 o'clock at night having sent the other ship to the bottom.

"Evidently the grain was not being thrown overboard fast enough, for the German commander sent a half hundred of his men aboard soon afterward and the work went on for hours without interruption. Later I was informed that my ship would be sent to the bottom, which was done.

"As soon as I was informed that my ship was to be sent to the bottom, I, my wife, and two boys and the crew made for the German cruiser in our boats. We were taken aboard and shown every courtesy throughout the rest of the voyage.

"Last night the wireless apparatus informed us that there were four English warships near. However, we eluded them and made for this port."

EASTER SUNDAY, APRIL 4, 1915

LADIES! Have you Placed Your Order for thatNEW SPRING SUIT OR COAT

If you would have that EASTER WEAR new Suit or Coat for it is time to place your order.

It is not so much a question of material as that of style, the tendency being more than ever a return to the early century fashions, however, the matter of materials for Spring and Summer has been definitely settled.

Tailored costumes command the greatest attention because they are essential to the needs of the largest number of women, regardless of social station and covert cloth is going to be exceedingly popular.

Suits and Skirts of white serge are to be exceeding popular this season and a white serge dress suit with brown, blue, red or green collar and cuffs is the last word of Fashion.

Among the many popular styles for Spring wear is the Swinging Skirted Coat for which Covert Cloth has been chosen as the best for its construction, and while there are many ways for producing this coat, the single-breasted closing, self-notched collar, full length sleeves with turned back and button trimmed cuffs are among the interesting features.

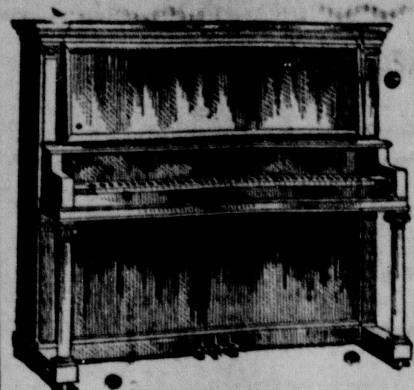

If you wear a Forman Man Tailored Suit or coat you will have the satisfaction of being well dressed.

Factory made Suits and Coats will cost you nearly as much as the hand tailored and will not have the style, fit and finish.

My full line of Samples and Fashions for Spring and Summer is now in and I shall be very much pleased to have you call and see them.

at the discretion of the county, the Lee county board voted to use the $2778 thereby raised, or whatever part of it may be necessary, to defray the county's share of the expense of filling the approaches to the McRoberts crossing over the Chicago & Northwestern railway, west of Dixon. Supervisors Morris Cook and E. J. Mannion were sponsors for this method of using the money.

On motion of Supervisor W. J. Edwards of Amboy, the board of supervisors voted to create a building committee of seven members, which is empowered to advertise for bids on the new county home building and supervise the construction of said building. The committee is composed of the chairman of the board as chairman, two members of each of the Alms House committee and Building committee and two members from the open board. The committee is named by Chairman C. C. Buckaloo is:

Morris Cook, John M. Sterling, J. P. Drew, W. J. Edwards, Frank L. Young, and Chairman Buckaloo was a member of the committee by the resolution. The committee is meeting in executive session this afternoon, conferring with M. H. Vail, architect of the building.

Would Raise Quarantine.

The following resolution, offered by Supervisor L. C. Burkett, was passed by the unanimous vote of the board:

To His Excellency Governor Edward F. Dunne, Governor of Illinois. Whereas, the county of Lee for the past several months, because of the prevalence of the foot and mouth disease, has been quarantined closely and with much stringency in the effort to eradicate said disease, and:

Whereas, there are no cases of said foot and mouth disease pending in said county and there is no reason to believe there will be a recurrence of said trouble within said county, and:

Whereas, the enforcement of the quarantine within said county as a close quarantine area is resulting in much hardship and discomfort of the inhabitants of this county,

Therefore be it resolved by the board of supervisors of said county of Lee, that you Excellency will cause said strict quarantine in said county of Lee, to be raised or modified as in your judgment may seem best.

Also be it further resolved that the county clerk of said county transmit a copy of this resolution to the governor of this state.

Pauper Claims.

When the pauper claims committee report was read to the board of supervisors, a supplementary report was added, giving the following amounts expended in the various townships for the maintenance of the poor:

DENIES SLUSH FUND CHARGE

Council for Defense in Indiana Vote Fraud Case Makes Statement.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 11.—That under the law every person is presumed to be innocent until proved guilty, and that the twenty-eight defendants in the Terre Haute election case are on trial for conspiracy and not the various alleged overt acts, was the contention of Frank S. Roby, who made the opening statement for the defense in the United States District court here.

He declared that Judge Eli H. Redman, one of the defendants, had not acted as a collector of the "slush fund" as asserted by District Attorney Dailey.

BIG CHAUTAUQUA IS NOW BANKRUPT

WINONA ASSEMBLY IN TRUSTEES HANDS BY ORDER OF COURT.

Warsaw, Ind., Feb. 10.—Lloyd D. Claycombe of Indianapolis was today elected trustee for Winona assembly, which was declared bankrupt by Judge Anderson of the federal court. His election was unanimous. The creditors by unanimous vote sanctioned the plan to please the assembly for the coming season and instructed the trustee to have it operated. The old Winona management will file a certified check for $5,000 for the use of the property and will turn over the net profits.

A program has already been arranged and it includes some of the best chautauqua talent in the country.

There are nearly 600 creditors and the total indebtedness as shown by the schedules is about $800,000. The assets are not yet known, but are estimated at from $100,000 to $600,000. The property will be sold to the highest bidder at the close of the season of 1915. A plan is on foot to have it bought by the creditors themselves and a reorganization effected. It is probable the creditors will realize from 10 to 20 cents on the dollar.

Dixon.—The above item is of great interest in this vicinity, inasmuch as the Winona assembly is recognized as one of the largest and most noted in the country. However, its directors have not observed the conservative policy which has characterized the management of the Rock River assembly here, and the failure of the Indiana institution accentuates the care with which those in charge of the Dixon institution have conducted its business affairs.

LEW FIELDS IN A NEW ROLE AT THE GARRICK, CHICAGO.

One of the most important events of the theatrical season will be the appearance on Sunday, March 14, at the Garrick theatre, Chicago, beginning an engagement of three weeks, of Lew Fields, the noted comedian, in a new role, that of Ludwig Klinkle, in "The High Cost of Loving," a three act farce adapted from the German by Frank Mandel. Manager A. H. Woods, under whose management Mr. Fields appears, and who has a happy faculty for odd but appropriate substitutes for his new productions, calls The High Cost of Loving a novel repeat in three courses, and novel the new comedy is, both in theme and treatment.

To a comedian of such experience as that of Mr. Fields, it is no difficult task to create a particular number of laughs in any three act comedy but in The High Cost of Loving Mr. Fields has found a subject worthy of his greatest talent as an actor who is not restricted to comedy alone. Ludwig Klinkle is a perpetual source of laughter but there are times when his position is so serious that laughter is almost choked with sympathy for the old rascal who thought he had long ago outlived his "past." It is in these moments, when the audience is torn between laughter and tears, that the real art of Mr. Fields is called upon to the uttermost and those who have seen him elsewhere during the past season in this role are unanimous in the verdict that the great comedian has come into his very own as a great artist who knows no limitations to his artistry.

The supporting company with Mr. Fields are James Lackaye, Thomas Carrigan, George Hassell, Ernest Lambert, Wilfred Clarke, Charlotte Ives, Alice Fisher and other well known artists, who appeared in the six months' run at the Republic theatre in New York.

During the Chicago engagement there will be matinees Wednesdays and Saturdays.

Dramatic Notes"MILLION DOLLAR MYSTERY."

Thursday afternoon and evening the Princess theater will show the 23rd and last episode of "The Million Dollar Mystery." Miss Ida Dameron, winner of the $10,000 prize offered by the Thanhouser Film Co. for a solution of its great photoplay received her money from the hand of the mayor of St. Louis at the first showing of this episode in that city. In this last episode the threads of the story are woven together in such a way that each question is clearly solved. Owing to the popularity of this serial it would be well to advise all those who can to come to the matinee and avoid the crowds at night.

FAMILY THEATRE.

Three acts of vaudeville will open at the Family for the last half of the week, commencing this evening. The bill consists of "The Three Harmony Girls," singers of popular and classical selections; Scott & Wallace in a singing and talking act, and Kartello & Kartello in a juggling novelty. All three acts are new to Dixon audiences and come highly recommended. Pictures tonight are: "Out of Petticoat Lane," a two part Selig drama, and "He Wanted Chicken," a Lubin comedy.

AT THE OPERA HOUSE.

Skeleton's message solves desert mystery, "The Answer," a thrilling photoplay drama of a mining town tragedy. Robert Myles, Clara Horton and L. J. Hall featured in a two reel Eclair story which contains the scenes staged in the great American desert, a penitentiary and the home of a mining millionaire, intensely exciting throughout.

"Children of Chance," is the one reel drama, a Rex, one of the best produced.

"Father was a Loafer," is the comedy, one of those 1-Ko's that everybody has to laugh at, from father down. This comedy features the famous Billy Ritchie along with a large cast of famous comedians. You are missing a rare treat if you don't see this program.

Hart Schaffner & Marx Clothes

But the truth is, they will cost you no more in the long run than any other clothes—possibly less. The added pleasure and satisfaction you'll derive from wearing clothes of this high standard cannot be estimated.

Yes--sometimes the cost of the better clothes is more. But most men overlook the fact that the first cost must be considered in connection with the lifetime of the suit to arrive at the actual Cost. For instance—a $15 suit may wear you satisfactorily for six months, the cost of that suit therefore being $2.50 per month. A twenty-five dollar Hart Schaffner & Marx suit lasts you twice as long—twelve months, therefore the cost is a trifle over $2.00 per month—plus the added satisfaction of wearing superior clothes—the best that can be had.

Hart Schaffner & Marx suits have won out on their merits—it costs you no more to wear them than inferior grades; in fact if you'll figure it out, they cost you less.

A HAPPY CHILD IN JUST A FEW HOURS

IF CROSS, FEVERISH, CONSTIPATED, GIVE "CALIFORNIA SYRUP OF FIGS."

Mother can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, and they become tightly packed, liver gets sluggish and stomach disordered.

When cross, feverish, restless, see if tongue is coated, then give this delicious "fruit laxative." Children love it, and it cannot cause injury. No difference what ails your little one—if full of cold, or a sore throat, diarrhoea, stomachache, bad breath, remember a gentle "inside cleanser" should always be the first treatment given. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrup. Ask your druggist for a 50 cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." We make no smaller size. Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

MAY COMPENSATE STATE MILITIAMEN

BILL CONSIDERED BY PRESIDENT WOULD PAY CITIZEN SOLDIERS.

Illinois National Guard officers from those highest in rank to the lowest, are keenly interested in a pending measure at Washington which President Wilson just now has under consideration.

The measure is a "military pay bill," an act providing for federal compensation of state national guards, and in view of the fact that the Illinois organization of citizen soldiery comes third in the list of state military organizations, Illinois would naturally benefit materially from such a measure were it passed by congress.

The compensation idea is not altogether new. The principle embodied in the proposition has been before congress for over five years. Just now, however, attachment of the wishes of the National Guard Association of the United States and of state officers of the guard, seem near realization of at any time.

National Guard interests who are watching fervently the course of the bill which the president now is considering, declare the compensatory feature ought to be enacted for many reasons, including the following:

That the system of discipline (with particular reference to the organization and training) now prescribed for the organized militia under existing laws makes it difficult and almost impossible to maintain an efficient force and to realize that standard which is fixed, without compensation such as will at least cover the expense which those who volunteer for this service are put to.

That the system of discipline now prescribed is necessary to develop an efficient and effective force of citizen soldiery for national defense.

That with the means for improving the efficiency of the militia which the pending legislation provides, the nation will be assured a force of from 150,000 to 200,000 mobile troops which will be efficient and dependable.

That the cost of maintaining each soldier in the regular army is about $1200 per year, while each militiaman will be about $100, for which reason the proposed legislation promises economy.

That only recently the president very wisely reminded congress that the nation must depend upon its citizen soldiery for defense, and that the training of the citizenry to meet this responsibility was necessary and should be encouraged.

MADAM HESS-BURR IS WELL KNOWN HERE

IS RECOGNIZED BY DIXON AUDIENCES AS MANIFEST OF GREAT ABILITY.

Madam Johanna Hess-Burr, who as pianist, will assist the Misses Reynolds in duet recital in costume, on Friday night, March 12, at the Dixon Opera House for the benefit of the Katherine Shaw Bethel hospital, needs no introduction to a local audience. Those who have not seen Madam Hess-Burr have heard of her, for she is famous in all of the greater cities from New York to Chicago. She is a pianist of rare ability, with a charmingly brilliant personality. Theodore Thomas said that she is "one of those rare musicians who not only does good work, but is always at their best." Passing through her studio one will see signed photographs of Marchesi, Melba, Liza Sembrich, Schumann, Heink, Sembrich, Gadske, Eugene Yesavage in fact all of the great artists know and love Madam Hess-Burr and acknowledge her genius publicly and privately. Notice her perfect poise when she appears upon the stage next Friday night and if it is possible to see her fingers as they fly over the piano keys do not fail to do so.

She belongs to a family of musicians of renown. Her brother Willie Hess, being the first violinist of the Boston Symphony orchestra and her father is a leader of the municipal orchestra of Frankfurt, Germany, a position he has held for nearly a life time. Her great generosity to the people of Dixon, should be acknowledged and appreciated by all.

The Misses Reynolds attribute their success to her training, as well as do many of the leading artists of the time, and especially of Chicago, where she has been established for thirty years.

It is most encouraging to the members of the Hospital Board to know that the interest of the whole city shows and the rapidity with which the seats are being sold.

BERLIN CLAIMS HUGE VICTORY IN FRANCE

German Statement Says Foes Losses Are 45,000.

Berlin, March 11.—The following statement was issued at the war office:

"With the battle of today and those of the last few days we have taken more than 2,540 wounded prisoners, including thirty-five officers. Naturally our losses were heavy, but such sacrifices were not in vain. The enemy's losses were at least three times as heavy as ours, and are estimated at 45,000 in Champagne."

The German losses are admitted to be greater than the German losses in the Mazurian fighting, but on the other hand the French losses are estimated at over 45,000 men.

Reference is made to the enormous amount of ammunition used by the French, some of which, it is alleged, was of American production.

MARCH WINDS.

The winds of March will shortly race insidiously through the land, and blow the whiskers from your face and fill your eyes with sand. Ah then you ought to smile and sing, and chortle all day long, for winds like these bespeak the Spring, the rose, the thrush's song.

What if the zephyr takes your tile, and rolls it through the town, and you pursue it, mile on mile, until you run it down? What if that zephyr splits your coat, and slams you through a wall, and soils your shirt and gets your goat and spoils your parol? It is the harbinger of spring, it ushers in the day when biddies cluck and jaybirds sing and all the world is gay. Oh, blow your hardest, wind of March, get busy, vernal breeze, and bend the elm and rend the larch, and other brands of trees! I brace myself against a post, and cry, "Oh, wind inspired, the season that we love the most will come when you are tired! Exert yourself, and make things hum, oh, woody wind, blow on! For soft and balmy days will come, when you are spent and gone!" The March wind whistles, howls and shrieks, throughout the dismal day, and knocks the sideboards from my cheeks, and blows my wig away.

An Old, Family Cough Remedy, Home-Made

Easily Prepared—Costs Very Little, but is Prompt, Sure and Effective

By making this pint of old-time cough syrup at home you not only save about $2, as compared with the ready-made kind, but you will also have a much more prompt and positive remedy in every way. It overcomes the usual coughs, throat and chest colds in 24 hours—relieves even whooping cough quickly—and is excellent, too, for bronchitis, bronchial asthma, hoarseness and spasmodic croup.

Get from any drug store 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth), pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Full directions with Pinex. Keeps perfectly and tastes good.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. It quickly loosens the dry, hoarse or painful cough and heals the inflamed membranes. It also has a remarkable effect in overcoming the persistent loose cough by stopping the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes.

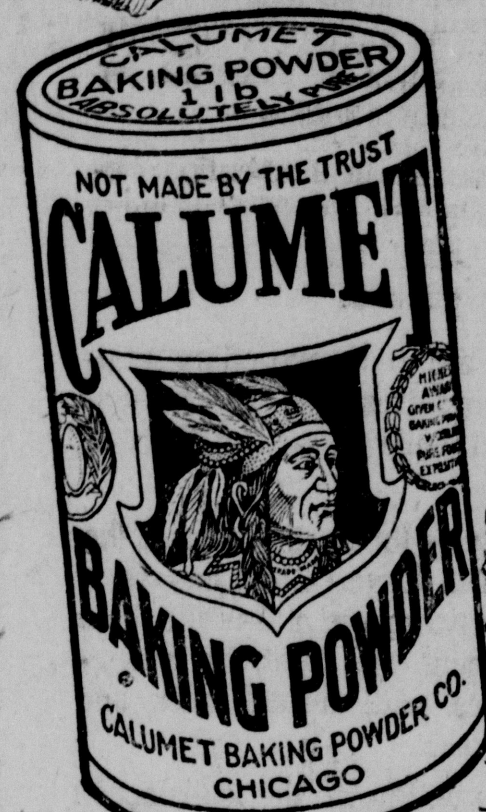

The effect of Pinex on the membranes is known by almost every one. Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract combined with quinine and other natural healing pine elements.

There are many worthless imitations of this famous mixture. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex," and do not accept anything else.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

ARE YOUR KIDNEYS WELL

MANY DIXON PEOPLE KNOW
IMPORTANCE OF HEALTHY
KIDNEYS.

The kidneys filter the blood.
They work day and night.
Well kidneys remove impurities.
Weak kidneys allow impurities to multiply.

No kidney ill should be neglected.
There is possible danger in delay.

If you have backache or urinary troubles,
If you are nervous, dizzy or worn out,

Begin treating your kidneys at once;

Use a proven kidney remedy.

None endorsed like Doan's Kidney Pills.

Recommended by thousands.

Proved by Dixon testimony.

W. Walford, blacksmith, Peoria avenue, Dixon, says: "I used to have quite a lot of trouble with my back and kidneys. The kidney secretions were irregular in passage.
My back ached, too. I used several boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills and the pains left my back and my kidneys became regular in action."
(Statement given May 21st, 1912.)

NO TROUBLE SINCE. On January 21st 1915, Mr. Walford said:
"I have had no kidney trouble at all for the past few years and I give the credit of my cure to Doan's Kidney Pills."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that
Mr. Walford had. Foster-Milburn

U-12 SUBMARINE SUNK BY BRITISH

Admiralty Says It Is Seventh Sent to Bottom.

VICTIM WAS OF LARGEST TYPE

Submersible Is Supposed to Have Been One That Sunk Merchantman Day Before—Victors Rescue Ten of Crew of Twenty-eight Who May Be Tried as Pirates.

London, March 11.—The German submarine U-20 has been sent to the bottom, according to a statement issued by the British admiralty. The submarine was rammed by the British torpedo boat destroyer Ariel. It went to the bottom. The members of the submersible's crew surrendered and were saved.

The location of the sinking of the submarine is not disclosed in the admiralty announcement.

The captured crew will be deprived of all special privileges, as was done in the case of the men on board the U-8, and they will be held for trial in connection with the sinking of merchant vessels.

The U-20 probably is the submarine which sank the British steamer Blackwood.

Seventh Submarine Lost.

The loss of the U-20 makes the seventh German submarine to be destroyed since the beginning of the war, according to statements given out officially in London. These boats are U-15, sunk by the British cruiser Birmingham in August; U-18, rammed and sunk by a British patrol boat Nov. 23, and three unidentified submarines officially declared lost on Oct. 26, Oct. 30 and Feb. 28. The sixth submarine to be destroyed was the U-8, which was sunk off Dover March 4.

One of Largest Submarines.

The submarine U-20 was built in 1910. She had a displacement of 295 tons and a speed of twelve knots on the surface and eight knots submerged. She was equipped with three torpedo tubes, two in the bow and two in the stern. Comparatively she was one of the largest of the German submarines, the U-8 and the U-9 having a tonnage of only 200 and a submerged speed of not more than eight knots. The maximum radius of boats of the U-12 type has been given in marine authorities at 1,000 miles.

National Salmon Day, Friday, March 12th.

This day is being advertised by the Salmon Canneries to acquaint the public with the excellent qualities of canned salmon as an article of food. They claim that "canned salmon, weight for weight, is nearly double in food value either spring chicken or fresh eggs and about one-third higher than sirloin steak or sugar cured ham."

It varies in price from 15c to 30c per pound can. The difference is not so much in food value as in the color of meat and richness of the oil. Also the higher priced fish is a very flaky meat, blood red and rich in oils. The medium and lower grades are not so red, not so flaky, nor as rich in oils as the first grade. You will find them all an appetizing and palatable food. We will be pleased to furnish you with any grade of canned salmon.
